DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Schinella (6644697).

Schinella relates to a shopping or a reference list apparatus (figure-1) comprising a pre-formatted sheet of paper (10) organized in a tabular format on the front side of said sheet wherein each cell of said tabular format comprises a category heading (11 or 12) for items to be purchased and space (13) for listing said items to be purchased or referenced under said category. The sheet has a strip of pressure sensitive adhesive (PSA) or glue on the top edge of its back surface (col. 4, lines 5-15) facilitating assembly of a plurality of said sheets in the form of a pad (figure-5). The pad can be placed on a refrigerator door or the like (col. 3, lines 54-55).

The intended use phrases such as "for the items", "for listing", enabling a user", etc. have not been given any patentable weight because said phrases are not deemed to be of positive limitations.

Claims 4 and 9, as recited, are directed to an intended use of the apparatus as claimed and has not been given any patentable weight as discussed herein before.

2. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Rzadzki (2002/0135178).

Rzadzki relates to a shopping or reference list (12) comprising a pre-formatted sheet of paper (16) organized in a tabular format on its front side and has adhesive strip on its back side top edge for forming a pad.

The intended use phrases as discussed in the previous paragraph have not been any patentable eight for reasons discussed therein.
